a complete system

Physical System. A TZ parcel logistics System consists of a bank of lockers comprised of columns that consist of several sizes of lockers. One locker is dedicated to housing the System hardware, software and power supply.

Hardware. TZ System hardware includes: 10.2-inch ergonomic, diagonal touch screen, Windows-based computer, GMS modem and remote aerial, Ethernet port, and Uninterruptable Power Supply.

Software. TZ System software runs on the Windows 7 operating system, complies with standard Windows principles and methods of operation, and is designed to work with only a single bank of lockers and three System users: administrators, end-users/recipients and mail or parcel service agents. TZ Systems offer a wide range of functions that vary by user requirements.

Convenient Client Services. Every TZ parcel logistics solution user has access to a private website that offers the opportunity to manage annual support subscriptions, review system documentation, download software updates and receive news on the users' specific TZ Systems.
